CANYON HIGHWAY BEING MADE SAFE FOR HEAVY TRAVEL

Four-Foot Wall Adds To Beauty of Niles' Scenic Drive

Niles Canyon, the Mecca of campers and picnic parties, is being improved and beautified. The highway has been widened and leveled for a half mile between Steel bridge and Farwell, and is graveled in preparation for the oiling process which is to follow. This section of the highway was for a long while the most dangerous part of the canyon, due to narrow, rough roads, barely wide enough for two cars to pass. It is now forty-four feet wide throughout, offering safety and comfort to all who select this scenic route.

Formerly a bank led off into the creek which runs through the canyon, but as an additional safety measure a four foot solid stone wall has been constructed to keep cars or any other vehicle from accidentally driving off the road. This wall lends a picturesque touch to the landscape and is indeed a credit to the one who conceived its innovation.

Another half mile of road construction is being done below the first, between Clark's bridge and Lakeside Park. Preparation for oiling will be made in the same manner as that used for the first section.

For six months work has been underway. Crews composed of from twelve to forty men have been employed, and in a week's time it is expected that oiling will begin. Several teams of horses and a steam roller have been among the various kinds of equipment in use.

J. Gomes, roadmaster, is in charge of the road construction, and Supervisor Ralph V. Richmond is the impelling force behind this progressive movement.

Two Families Vacation At Blue Lake Resort

Mr. and Mrs. Lester and daughter spent last week at Feather River. This week they are vacationing at Blue Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wilder are also spending a two weeks' vacation at this famous lake in Lake county.

Clean-Up Campaign Gives Employment to Thousands

Thousands of men have been given temporary employment through "paint-up, clean-up, and fix-up" campaigns, inaugurated in communities throughout California by the State Building Trades Council, it was announced today by Frank C. MacDonald, president.

Campaigns in Alameda county under the guidance of Supervisor William J. Hamilton, have been particularly successful. Similar activity is being carried on in Sacramento, Stockton, San Mateo county, Fresno, Napa and other cities and towns north and south of the bay.

The work will be kept alive for several weeks yet, according to MacDonald, because of the effect in stimulating business and reducing unemployment.

"The city and county officials and the business men who have contributed to the success of these campaigns should be given great credit," he said. "This is the one outstanding piece of work that has been done in California during this time of depression to actually lessen unemployment. Much has been said about reducing unemployment, but few ideas have got beyond the realm of talk. This campaign is getting big results. Work and not talk has been both the motto and the program.

"The newspapers have responded mightily to the plan. They have given us the publicity without which little could have been done. Therefore let me say, the best cure for depression is advertising and then more advertising."

Strength Of Ground Is Determined By Use Of Weights

TESTS have been made of ground on the site of the new I. O. O. F. hall, which is to be erected in Niles in the near future. These tests are for the purpose of determining exactly how much weight this ground will support per square foot.

The method of testing is one used by most construction engineers and architects. A post one foot square, surmounted by a platform, is sunk into the ground at the proposed building site, and upon this is piled weights varying from 3,000 to 10,000 pounds. Record is kept throughout all changes of weights, and at the first sign of settling deductions are made concerning the exact strength of the ground. This test was made because many people believe the ground was not strong enough to support a building of great weight.

George E. Ellinger, of Oakland, is the architect, and M. O. Person, of Berkeley, the foreman in charge of construction now underway. A crew of approximately twelve men is employed on foundation and preliminary construction work. Lumber has been delivered at the building site.

When interviewed Mr. Ellinger stated that already material for the edifice is being turned out in the various shops and foundries. Iron and stone work necessary was ordered in advance, and made according to specifications given in plans. Material will be ready for installation as soon as it arrives in Niles, and additional work on it will be unnecessary.

This Odd Fellows hall is to cost $25,000 and when completed will have two floors, first being given over to the modern stores and the second to lodge rooms. Building material will be brick, with cast stone trimming. Iron work is being supplied by Herrick Iron Works, Oakland, and cast stone by Fred Ferrera, Alameda.

At present lodge meetings are being held temporarily in a hall above P. A. Ellis' furniture store, on J street. In addition to the Odd Fellows meetings several local chapters of other fraternal and religious organizations convene there.

Mr. and Mrs. Marston Dassel returned from their vacation spent at resorts in northern California. They reported a fine motor trip and especially their stay at Feather River.

Steam Heating New Addition To High School Gymnasium

CONSTRUCTION on the gymnasium for Washington Union High school is rapidly progressing. About seventy-five per cent of the work is completed up to date. Final concrete pouring was done last Saturday and only floors, which are to be made of cement, are unfinished. In addition to cement flooring maple wood will be utilized quite extensively.

Preliminary electrical wiring has been installed, and more can not be accomplished in that line until the builders proceed. This also means that the most difficult electrical work is done. Room to room fixtures are all that are necessary for completion in that line.

At present a crew of thirty men is employed, and is at work on the roof and bleachers. Ample seating space is being provided around the large floor in the main room where all activities will take place. By the end of the week all wooden forms for concrete will have been removed and preparations are being made for the next step in construction.

When building contracts were drawn no mention was made of a steam heating plant and since that time such a plan has been considered a necessity. Money and time will be saved and inconvenience is being avoided by this addition now while the gymnasium is still in first stages of construction. Installation of heating apparatus is easier and the work can be done faster.

Amount of money appropriated for this school building was $65,000 but has since been raised to $80,000. The steam heating plant, which connects with the main school building, is said by the contractors to be responsible for the increase in cost of construction and material.

The accident occurred late in the afternoon while Mrs. Enos was visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Emily Enos, also of this city. At the time of her fall Mrs. Enos was wearing spectacles, the glass in them breaking and causing some of the lacerations.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pine and family, of Newark; Mrs. Mary P. Silva and Mrs. Palmyra Lemos, of Niles, motored to San Leandro, Sunday, where they visited Mrs. Eleanor Lucio, a relative.

W. P. RENEWS FIGHT FOR NILES-REDWOOD CITY BRIDGE LINK

Washington Township and Bay Peninsula Are To Profit Much.

The Western Pacific Railroad company announced today that final steps had been taken to obtain the authorization from the Interstate Commerce Commission necessary to enable the Western Pacific to carry out its plan to effect an all-rail entrance into San Francisco by the construction of a line of railroad between Niles and San Francisco, via Redwood City. The proposed line will cross the southerly end of San Francisco bay and connect with the main line of the Western Pacific.

The amended application, which has also been forwarded to the Interstate Commerce Commission, provides for the construction of twenty-five miles of railroad connecting at the Western Pacific terminals in San Francisco and extending in a southerly and southeasterly direction through the counties of San Francisco and San Mateo to Redwood City; also for the construction of fourteen miles of railroad commencing at a point on the San Francisco-Redwood City line and extending in a general easterly and northeasterly direction in San Mateo and Alameda counties to a connection with the main line of the Western Pacific at or near Niles.

The Western Pacific, which has determined that it is now practical to construct both units of the connecting line, states that it will proceed to construct the new railroad upon authorization by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

This amount will be increased to 6,000 cases per day as the season advances and a full complement of cannery workers is employed. J. E. Townsend, manager of the plant, stated that by August 1 he expected the peak of production would be reached. Four hundred employees are at work now and this number will be increased to 500 soon.

The first carload of fruit was sent out Wednesday for export shipment. A large majority of Schuckl products supplies foreign trade.

Several enjoyable "feeds" have been given; one of them being a corn feed which was greatly enjoyed by the entire troop and attendant scout committeemen.

Several local scouts have been staying at Diamond Camp, official Boy Scout camp for all troops of the territory. They have reported many pleasurable outings, with sports activities uppermost in the category of youthful enjoyments.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

By NORMAN H. PARKS, Publisher Register

WHAT EXTENUATING CIRCUMSTANCES FOR THIS APPALLING DISASTER, WE ASK

ON THE HEELS of one appalling disaster marking the management of the Hetch Hetchy Project came another last week even more shocking than the first, and the great load of responsibility for the death of these ten men can not be shifted to that invisible shoulder of "undetermined cause" or dismissed on the specious plea that it was but another one of those "unavoidable accidents" that may occur in the construction of any great engineering feat.

Five weeks ago California was staggered by the disaster in the tunnel of the Hetch Hetchy water project when seven men were asphyxiated and later most horribly burned. A coroner's jury in session in Pleasanton deliberated for a day, examining witnesses and brought in a verdict that the cause of the explosion was undeterminable. No blame was placed upon the heads of the department of the San Francisco city government who are directing this auxiliary municipal water system. Government agents, state deputies, and labor union delegates investigated, the latter bringing in a report that proper safeguards for the men working in the tunnel had not been taken. Lacking authority to act, the union's castigation of the management went unnoticed, apparently, as it certainly went unheeded. The state as usual, under the pusillanimous direction of Young, procrastinated. Hetch Hetchy was permitted to go its way—human life, evidently, being a cheap commodity when weighed in the scale against dollars and cents.

And the result! Ten lives snuffed out—ten homes in mourning—the widows and orphans left to pursue the dreary years without the love and protection of husband and father.

Could this accident have been avoided! The Register cannot say. But one revolting error should make an individual, or an organization, or even a government extremely careful that not another occur. But it has occurred—and so soon! And what will be the burden of the next government report?

We hope there will be no whitewash spread by investigators soon to begin deliberating—no attempt made to shift responsibility onto the unforeseen forces of nature and the gasses that lie hidden in the bowels of the earth; for if that is done, we cannot help but call to mind the attitude of the Hetch Hetchy people in the Sunol crossing affair. How for months timber belonging to the city of San Francisco was piled sky-high, obstructing the motorist's vision at this point and constantly endangering human life. How this matter went on uncorrected in the face of protest, because to remove it would be an inconvenience, an expense. How the Southern Pacific two weeks ago promised that it would direct the Hetch Hetchy Project, which has the railroad company's right-of-way leased, to clear away this obstruction, and how today it remains practically the same as months ago. Not a finger has been moved to eliminate this death trap or keep a pledge given to this newspaper.

And who will say it is not this same indifference that has cost the lives of seventeen men in the short space of five weeks' time!

The callousness of the thing makes the red blood of real men run hot with anger. It makes a proud head fall in shame that nothing may be expected from the state under the leadership of such a governor.

For the same old story will be repeated: An investigation, a delay—forgetfulness, and the bereaved ones left to dry their tears upon a husk, and the hurt in their heart healed with vinegar.

OPINION NOT WORTH MUCH

The Township Register endorses men and measures through the editorial columns. Its opinion is not for sale, and advertising patronage has no influence with this newspaper. Candidates for county and state offices are laboring under the impression that a four-inch ad entitles them to endorsement in the news columns, at least. Some papers coming to our exchange table seem to value their opinion just about that much—the price of a four-inch ad.

Pleasanton Advances Rapidly During First Six Months Of 1930

Business Reported Above Average In That District

By LLOYD H. RHODES,
Manager Pleasanton Times

Pleasanton and the greater portion of southern Alameda county are enjoying a prosperity above that in other parts of the county and state, according to bankers and merchants in this district.

While there is considerable truth in the statement that business is unsettled in many of the larger cities, the slump has not reached Pleasanton, Livermore, Sunol, Niles, Centerville and Newark, and only partially in Oakland.

From a recent survey made by one of the leading advertising agencies of the Pacific coast, the writer learned that the East Bay district is enjoying what may be termed the "cream of the business." One of the principal reasons set forth is the fact that the East Bay is noted for its diversification of industry and agricultural products.

Taking Pleasanton's banking houses for authority here, it has been learned that both of the city's financial institutions enjoyed periods of prosperity during the first half of the year ending June 30, last. While the progress was not history making in its extent, it was methodical and showed every indication of solid growth.

With few exceptions business men of the city are stating that business is above the average for this time of year, and the exceptions are of the type who would say business was bad if they had so much they couldn't handle it.

What outsiders think of the city is evidenced during the past few months in the advent of new stores. First to come was the "1 to 49 Cent Store." Then in rapid succession came the Patten Permanent Wave Studio, Nabel's Apparel Shop, and the Kaiser Paving Company plant.

Likewise Pleasantonians think well of the future of their city. Within the recent weeks the Railway Express Agency was moved into its new quarters on Main St. The Floral Acres, Pleasanton's finest nursery, also is now located on Main street. Ernest W. Schween has taken over a suite of offices on Main street in the heart of the city, John J. Amaral is now constructing a super-service station at the corner of Main and St. Mary streets, and Carlo Guanzoli is making plans for the erection of a filling station.

On the professional side of the city's life, Dr. D. H. McLaughlin re-opened his offices after having had them practically ruined by fire recently. Dr. W. E. Veale opened a suite of offices for the giving of chiropractic treatments and has reported his practice is now above his expectations.

Beginning the first of June merchants of the city opened an advertising campaign featuring week-end dollar specials and with a very few exceptions the merchants reported themselves well pleased with the results.

For those who have complained of the the results obtained, the writer offers the suggestion that the blame should not be laid to the advertising, but to the "follow up." Those merchants who featured their specials in prominent places in their stores had no fault to find, but those who inserted their advertising and then forgot all about it, did not reap the full benefit of the campaign.

In reviewing the events of the past six months, all of them showing the city to be progressing, there appears at least three things which should be considered during the last half of the year.

- 1—A hospital.
- 2—A new hotel.
- 3—A community swimming tank.

And last, but not least, in considering the progress of Pleasanton since the beginning of 1930 there is that live-awake and progressive thinking group known as the Lions club. Starting from a suggestion by Jerome Arendt, the club blossomed forth until it now has a membership approximating forty and is still going strong.

As has been said, "toot your own horn for no one else will." If Pleasanton just keeps "tootin' its own horn," the whole of Alameda county will be turning envious glances in our direction.

PROSPERITY OF
P. G. AND E. IS TOLD IN REPORT

Depression has not halted building activities of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. Its payroll is larger than it was a year ago. In May, the last month for which reports are available, the company's payroll was $2,124,000, or $520,000 more than last year for the same month. The number of employees was 14,242, an increase of 3,761 over May, 1929.

"The payroll of this company for the year," said A. F. Hockenbeamer, president of the company, "will run in excess of $25,000,000—more than $2,000,000 a month for every month in the year. We have not halted in a single undertaking in our program of building for the future. We're going along with our dam power houses and ditches on our Salt Springs project on the Mokelumne river. Work on our steam-electric plant in San Francisco is likewise moving ahead with full crews at work. Our natural gas program is being carried on as laid out last year and the year before. Extensions, gas and electric, are going ahead in every city and town where there is a demand for them.

According to Mr. Hockenbeamer, the whole state benefits in the building program of the Pacific Gas and Electric company. "Our employees," he said, "all live in Northern and central California. There are none outside of the state. All their earnings go into circulation in this section. Wages and salaries go into stores and shops or into investments in homes, real property or securities. Everyone in the community benefits, from the grocer and the butcher to banks and insurance companies."

Today's Scripture
LESSON

By Rev. John R. Stevenson

"Be ye kind one to another, tender hearted, forgiving one another." Eph. 4:32.

The quality of mercy is not strain'd. It droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven upon the place beneath; it is twice blest; it blesseth him that gives and him that takes: 'Tis mightiest in the mightiest; it becomes the throned monarch better than his crown. . . . though justice be thy plea, consider this, that, in the course of justice, none of us should see salvation; we do pray for mercy; and that same prayer doth teach us all to render the deeds of mercy.—Shakespeare.

Recent developments stress the fact that Nash gives more for the money

Amid all new claims and counter-claims, one fact stands out as clear and as strong as sunlight. That is the unmistakably greater value which you get when you buy a Nash.

No other car at anywhere near the Nash price affords the pronounced advantages of Nash—including such features as twin ignition, with its greater power, speed, smoothness and saving of oil and gas.

Such a feature as twin ignition is highly important—but it is even more important as indicative of the superior engineering and of the in-built value which distinguish every Nash car.

You know Nash beauty. You may be familiar with Nash performance; Nash comfort and convenience; Nash thorough-going quality.

But until you compare what the Nash is and what it does with the remarkably low cost at which it may be purchased today—you cannot appreciate its wholly unexampled value. Come in and drive a Nash today.

Red Cross Offers To Aid Vets To Get Allowance

World War Cripples May Procure Increased Assistance

All honorably discharged veterans of the World War who believe themselves entitled to the "disability allowance" provided by the World War Veterans Act as amended July 3, 1930, may file their claims through the nearest Red Cross chapter, members of Washington Township Post, American Legion have been informed. Announcement is made that the first supply of application blanks has been received from the Red Cross headquarters in San Francisco.

Many hundreds of veterans will be eligible to the new benefits. The Act as amended provides a monthly allowance ranging from $12 to $40, according to the degree of disability, to honorably discharged veterans of the World War who served more than ninety days and who are suffering from twenty-five percent or greater permanent disability not acquired in the service and for which compensation has not been paid. No payment of this allowance shall be made prior to July 3, 1930, and no veteran shall be entitled to it unless he has been exempt from payment of a Federal income tax for one year preceding the filing of his application. No veteran can receive both compensation and disability allowance during the same period.

Any veteran wishing to file a claim must be sure to bring with him his honorable discharge or a certified copy of the same, the Red Cross stated.

PLEASANTON MAN IS PROMOTED TO DETECTIVE JOB

Hugo Radbruch, Pleasanton, has been promoted to the detective bureau of the sheriff's office, it was learned this week. The promotion carries with it an increase in salary of $10 a month, it was said.

Radbruch has been a deputy sheriff for some time, having received his appointment under civil service regulations. Advancement to the detective bureau carries with it much prestige and honor.

The recent upheaval in the office of the sheriff made the opening in the detective bureau to which Radbruch was promoted.

DUBLIN NOT TO RECEIVE FUEL GAS

P. G. & E. Abandons Plans There For Present, It Is Said

Dublin and Santa Rita will not be served with natural gas at this time, it was learned this week when the Pacific Gas and Electric Company withdrew its application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity which had been on file with the Railroad Commission.

The commission granted the company's application for such a certificate in the cities of Pleasanton, Sunol, Livermore, Mission San Jose, and Warm Springs. It also granted the right to enter the property of the U. S. Veteran's Hospital at Livermore.

No explanation was given for the change in plans for serving Santa Rita and Dublin with gas, unless it be surmised that the company thought the expenditure too great for the returns. The gas line was reported to have been planned to come down from Contra Costa county through Walnut Creek, Danville, and San Ramon into Alameda county by way of Dublin.

No definite time has been set for the opening of service in Pleasanton. All of the mains in that city have been placed and the greater portion of the connections to the property lines have been laid, it was said. August 1 is the tentative date now said to be promised for the turning on of the natural gas into the lines in Pleasanton.

Before starting on your vacation trip, it is a good plan to check your tires and purchase new ones if necessary. An old tire may run several months when the weather is cool, but the first hot day that comes along may cause a blow-out.

ARMY REGULATIONS ARE BEING USED IN TRAINING STATE TRAFFIC OFFICERS

It's the old army game now for state traffic officers.

Highway Inspectors, Captains, and Patrolmen are being taught the regulation salute of the American Army at the training school of the California Highway Patrol at Sacramento.

James J. Borree, head of the school, who is a former Adjutant General of California and now holds the rank of Brigadier-General in the regular army, explains it is all a part of the state administration's plan to inculcate discipline and impress the men with the idea of courtesy to the public and their superior officers.

The men are required to salute their superior officers and their superiors must return the salute. And instead of saying "Howdy" to motorists along the road they must bring the hand to the cap at the angle required by the famous blue book. The salute must be snappy, not just a wave of the hand.

"It looks better," Borree said, "and the men like it." Borree added that most of the officers are former service men and need little instruction.

Here are some of the other things the men are cautioned to do as part of the general plan of stricter discipline:

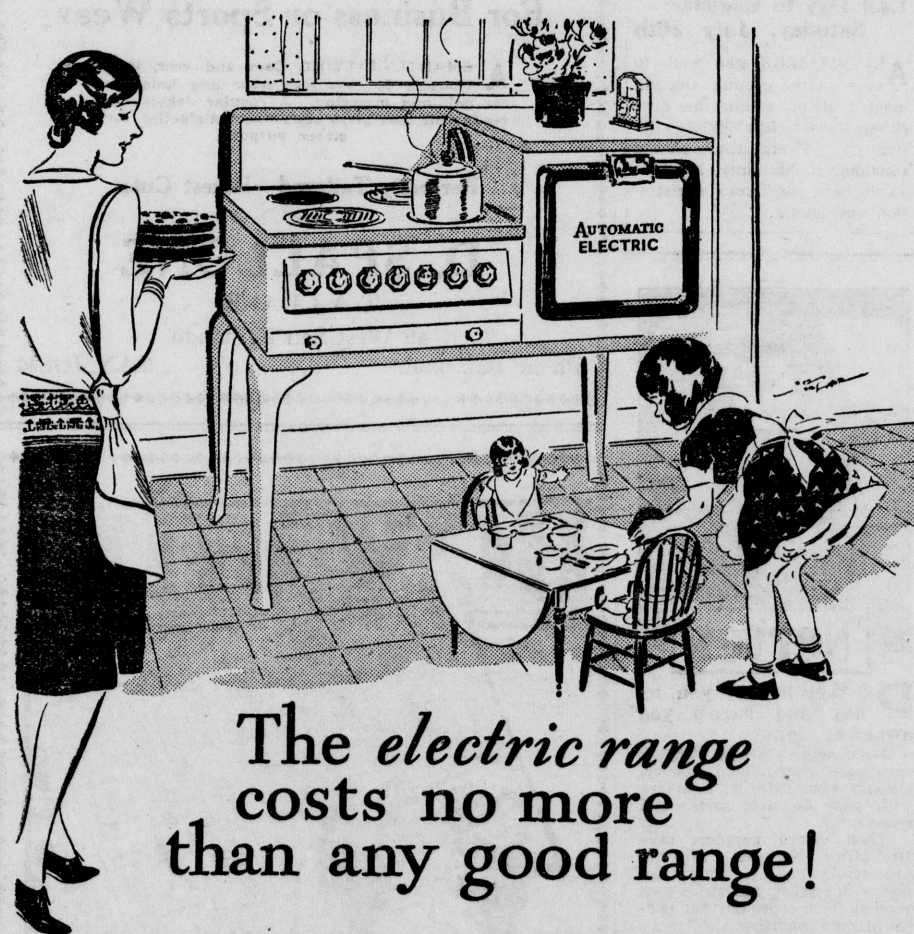

Never call your superior officer by his first name when addressing him concerning your regular duties. Say "Inspector Smith" or "Captain Brown," not "Jack" or "Jim." Address brother officers of the same rank as "Officer So and So."

Don't sit on the corner of the desk of your superior officer when transacting business with him. Stand erect directly before him and get out as soon as you have finished.

Keep your coat or shirt buttoned and your clothes neat and clean.

Do not smoke while directing traffic or when addressing your superior officers or the public.

BUSINESS GROWTH IS THEME WHICH CONCERNS NATION

Expansion of business is a theme which the entire nation has seriously concerned itself about. President Hoover has set himself to the task of co-ordinating this expansion movement. In this he deserves the support of every American.

"The Goodyear Tire & Rubber company," said Ed Rose, Goodyear dealer in Niles and Centerville, "is primarily concerned in the transportation methods, but particularly to develop the newest form of transportation—aviation in all its forms, both lighter and heavier-than-air."

The production of additional business in the aviation field is simply a problem in traffic. More traffic means more airplanes—more planes mean more fire and accessory business for those in the industry. Air transportation is a business by no means simple in nature. It requires the education of the public, often described as the creation of air-mindedness. It requires volume to break down tariffs to a competitive basis. All this requires study. So rapid has been the development and so numerous have been the problems inherent in this development, that in some respects the industry has not kept pace with itself. Big businesses, like Goodyear, are turning their organizations and experience over to the aviation industry for the purpose of organizing this new form of transportation.

"Goodyear," said Mr. Rose, "has a very definite aviation program of development in both dirigibles and airplanes. The laying of the ring of the ZR-4 and the development of the new Goodyear air-wheel for the plane, are two definite steps in the progress of aviation."

MISSION SAN JOSE INDIANS LOSE GAME TO MILPITAS

A baseball game between Mission Indians and the Milpitas baseball team played Sunday at Mission San Jose, resulted in a loss for the Indians. Score at the end of the 9th inning was 9-2. Mission Indians have been leading the league but are now tied for first place with two other league entries.

Silveria pitched the game for the Indians and succeeded in fanning out five men on the opposing team. Errors made by Indians did much to bring defeat to home players. Most spectacular features of the game were by Boggini, who hit a double in the eighth inning, and Fontes, who delivered a triple in the ninth for the Indians.

T. D. Witherly is completely recovered in health after a long and trying period of illness. His many friends have expressed their pleasure at receiving this report.

Drill Teams Will Compete For Prizes at State Fair

Contest Open to Men's and Women's Drill Teams.

Drill teams of Washington Township will have an opportunity to compete for $1,000 in prize money at the California State Fair in Sacramento, September 7th. Announcement of the contest was made today by Charles W. Paine, secretary-manager of the fair, who suggested that all drill teams interested in entering the contest should communicate with him.

The competitive drill will be one of the many colorful features of the State Fair which opens in Sacramento August 30th. Four prizes, starting with a $500 first prize, will be awarded the winning teams.

Drills will be held in front of the grand stand, each team to be allowed five minutes for movements which may be either military or fancy drills, or both. Following this elimination contest, the five teams with the highest percentage will again compete, for ten minutes each.

While appearance will be considered in the judging, it will apply to the general set-up, physique and carriage rather than to the expensiveness of uniforms.

Music will be furnished by the State Fair association. The cadence will be 120 steps per minute. In addition to the $500 first prize, other prizes of $250, $150, and $100 will be awarded. The percentages on which the awards will be made are: Inspection, 10 percent; appearance, 10 percent; cadence, 10 percent; alignment and distance, 10 percent; variety of drill, 10 percent; commanding officer, 10 percent; drill, 40 percent.

WALTER P. CHRYSLER'S TRAFFIC TALKS

SPRING AND THE NEW CAR

Spring flowers and new cars make their appearance together. A new car is a great deal like a child, for its creditable performance in the later mileage years of its life, all things being equal, depends largely on the treatment it receives during the formative period. The pattern of life to which a child will conform is said to be "set" in the first six to eight years.

The pattern for a motor vehicle is set in the first 1,000 miles. You cannot feed your car on cheap gas and inferior oil, neglect lubrication, and over work your engine and expect to have your motor hum at twenty thousand miles. It is more apt to chatter like a riveting machine, and shake violently in every nut and bolt.

Every car needs a certain amount of working in, whether previously given its initial running at the factory or not. In any case it is at least safe to maintain a speed of not more than thirty miles an hour for the first five hundred miles. Many manufacturers still call for a twenty five mile an hour operation. The second five hundred miles can be taken at thirty five, but the lower your average, and the steadier you are at maintaining it, the smoother will be your engine performance in the long run.

Oil should be changed every five hundred miles, and thorough lubrication given at all points requiring attention. At no time should the motor be raced. Careful check should be made of all minor faults, and all screws, nuts, and bolts, and loose fixtures generally tightened as soon as located. A general tightening of nuts and bolts is done by the service station after the required first run, but it is best to attend to minor troubles as soon as they show.

The outside of the car should receive careful attention. Never wipe the car off when there is dirt or grit on the paint, and when washing, let the water stream be slow and soft, instead of hard and swift. It is rarely necessary to use soap at first. Watch when passing roads bordering on orchards. Tree spraying ruins paint.

SIX MONTH JAIL SENTENCE GIVEN TO WALTER LYON

Workman Is Convicted On Petit Larceny Charge

Six months in the county jail was the price Walter Lyon must pay for selling five cans of honey belonging to Mrs. E. L. Mendenhall, of Pleasanton, and failing to turn the proceeds of the sale over to the owner. Lyon received the six months sentence in the Pleasanton city court Tuesday morning when he was found guilty by Judge Wm. T. Davis.

Lyon entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned, but was convicted upon his own testimony when he stated that he took the honey, sold it for $16 in Oakland and used the money for his personal needs and did not have the money now to give to Mrs. Mendenhall. The honey was valued at $75.

The theft occurred July 10, according to Mrs. Mendenhall. She testified that she permitted the convicted man to take the honey when he offered to sell it for her on a percentage basis.

WOMAN'S DEATH HELD TO BE ACCIDENTAL

That the death of Mrs. Louise Topliff, which occurred in Pleasanton on the Fourth of July, when the automobile in which she was riding, hit the rear of a stage, was an accident for which no one could be blamed, was the verdict of a coroner's jury last Thursday.

Sidney Alston, driver of the stage, is under arrest on a charge of manslaughter. He was not present at the inquest, and his attorney, Richard N. Mather, explained to Coroner Grant D. Miller, that as long as a criminal charge was pending, the driver would not be permitted to testify.

Proceedings at the inquest were enlivened at the conclusion of the direct examination of C. Topliff, son of the dead woman, and driver of the car in which she was riding. Mather, as attorney for Alston, attempted to cross-examine the witness. Coroner Miller peremptorily excused Topliff with the explanation that in as much as Alston refused to obey a subpoena to appear at the inquest, his attorney could not cross examine.

The preliminary examination of Alston on the manslaughter charge will be held in Pleasanton this week.

Mrs. Walker based her statement that the report for June was exceptional, on the fact that many persons are away on vacations.

Does "Everybody" Know Your Store?

FREDERICK W. BRIDGES, advertising manager of the Hamilton (Bermuda) Royal Gazette & Colonist Daily, says:

That ADVERTISING PAYS YOU, MR. SMALL-TOWN-MERCHANT, in as great proportion as the national advertiser, if conducted in a rational and business-like manner. It is a too-common attitude on the part of the small town storekeeper that everybody knows his store, is familiar with what he sells, and that his regular customers will buy from him regardless of what the other man is offering. There seems, therefore, to be no need to advertise.

There Is Nothing "Regular" About Public's Buying

That this idea is based on a shaky foundation is obvious to the person who steps to think, for it predicates "regular customers," and experience in all towns, large and small, has proved over and over again that there is nothing regular about the buying public. All human beings are creatures of impulse to a greater or lesser degree, and any one thing, it may be better service, or even the fact that a competitor knows the value of a smile at the time, may change YOUR regular into HIS; in short, there is but a hair-line distinction between the status of "regular" and "casual" customer, and the conversion of the latter into the former depends almost entirely on the use of advertising.

What can you offer that is better than your competitor's? Is it Courtesy? Advertise it! Is it a lower price on a staple article, due to careful buying? Advertise it! Is it a feature line which you handle exclusively? Advertise it! Is your store handy to car-stops? Advertise it! Every day you have something which can beat, or is at least as good as the other fellow's, be it quality, price, service, courtesy, or what-have-you? Something has brought you your "regulars," but how many more can be brought in? Advertising will show you!

Your store is part of the community. How much of the community is part of your store? Unless there is a link between them your business may be average, but try the best link, advertising, and watch the results! Any special inducement you can offer is but the thin edge of the wedge, for every customer who comes in for your advertised line is a prospect for something you carry, and, once sold on your goods and your store will send his friends along.

BUT, IT ISN'T GOOD ENOUGH TO GET CUSTOMERS—YOU'VE GOT TO KEEP 'EM COMING, AND THE SUREST WAY IS TO ADVERTISE CONTINUOUSLY, and ADVERTISE INTELLIGENTLY.

Rescue Crews Are Balked by Fumes From Poisonous Gases

THIRTEEN MEN ESCAPE

Investigations Are Underway From Three Different Sources

Preparations for three separate investigations into the alleged gas explosion in the Mitchell Ravine shaft of the Hetch Hetchy water project in which twelve men lost their lives, are underway.

The City of San Francisco, whose project the Hetch Hetchy is, the state and federal government compose the groups which will conduct the investigation.

The explosion occurred between 1 and 1:30 last Thursday morning in that portion of the tunnel known as the east drift. The blast was at a depth of approximately 1,200. The tunnel is being constructed with the Calaveras shaft in which a similar explosion occurred June 9, last in which seven men were killed, and one badly burned.

Thirteen men were rescued from the tunnel. These men were working in the west drift, a hundred feet below the level of the shaft in which the explosion occurred. Two men were injured, but were brought to the surface both suffering greatly.

The Mitchell Ravine shaft is located about twenty-seven miles from Niles.

The force of the blast, the cause of which has not been determined, shook the entire country side surrounding the site of the shaft. Rock, timbers and debris blocked the opening of the tunnel a few seconds after the tremor was felt on the surface.

Rescue crews immediately were dispatched to the tunnel, but because of the debris and gas were unable to penetrate more than a few hundred feet. The bodies of three men were located a short way from the mouth of the shaft, apparently having been injured and died while attempting to make their escape.

The regular workmen formed the first rescue crews, having been drilled in the work since the blast at the other tunnel of the same project. They entered the tunnel with gas masks, now being kept at the workings, and about 200 feet from the opening found the bodies of the shift boss, John McNichols, 42, and J. C. Maybin.

Because of the gas and debris the rescuers were unable to penetrate further at that time. They reported that although the shaft was partially filled with debris, it appeared to have withstood the terrific blast and not to have caved in.

The Federal Bureau of Mines at Berkeley immediately dispatched rescue crews upon learning of the disaster. The State Industrial Accident Commission also sent men to aid in the work.

It is not necessary to go to the city to get correct printing of a society nature.
